Ken Mueller, Former CFO of Microsoft Business Solutions, Joins SharkPro Software Advisory Board

Veteran finance and operations executive guides company growth and operational excellence

Houston, TX — Mar. 28, 2011 — SharkPro Software Corporation today announced that veteran business operations executive Ken Mueller has joined the SharkPro Advisory Board.

“I am delighted to have Ken providing direction in business operations and partnering with our executive team,” said Greg Bailey, CEO and Founder of SharkPro Software Corporation. “He will drive the development and execution of operational and financial strategies to maintain SharkPro’s growth and profitability.”

Ken Mueller has over 25 years of senior finance, accounting, and strategic planning experience in high growth tech start-up, private, and public companies in domestic and global markets. He also has extensive experience developing and implementing US and International Shared Service Centers (Accounting, Tax, Payables, Billing, Payroll, HR, Customer Relationship, and Technology) for several global companies including Microsoft, Apple, Platinum technology, Divine, and Galileo International.

“I am very excited about joining SharkPro which has a great reputation with Microsoft and its clients for delivering the innovative project and portfolio management solutions for specific business needs,” said Ken Mueller. “Greg and I worked together at Platinum Technology to significantly grow that company. I look forward to working with him and the team to do the same at SharkPro!”

“Ken is a great asset as we continue to expand our ability to provide our customers innovative project management solutions and excellence in customer service,” said Greg.

Mueller held the position of Chief Financial Officer, Microsoft Business Solutions, (now Microsoft Dynamics) a $700 million business unit. During his tenure with Microsoft Business Solutions, Mueller led the effort to build out the worldwide finance organization, completed the integration of two businesses, and helped relocate a new finance Shared Service Center to Fargo, N.D. In addition, he helped build two start-
